

Modern Slavery Policy Commitment

Introduction

Digicore is committed to conducting business ethically and responsibly, ensuring that modern slavery is not present in our operations or supply chains. This policy reflects our dedication to protecting human rights as outlined in our corporate values and vision.

Scope and Application

This policy applies to all Digicore employees, suppliers, and subcontractors. We expect all business partners to uphold these standards.

Risk Assessment and Due Diligence

Regular risk assessments will identify potential modern slavery risks in our operations and supply chains. We will conduct due diligence on suppliers and subcontractors to ensure compliance with our standards.

Supplier Code of Conduct

Digicore's suppliers must adhere to our Supplier Code of Conduct, which prohibits modern slavery and sets expectations for labour rights, health and safety, and environmental practices.

Employee Training and Awareness

Employees will receive training on modern slavery, including how to identify and report potential issues.

Grievance Mechanism and Reporting

We provide accessible channels for reporting concerns or violations, ensuring confidentiality and protection for whistle-blowers.
